STANDARDIZED TEST HOLDINGS

36th edition
revised January 2014

In order to conserve space, each test has been assigned only one subject heading. More thorough access is provided by Webster, Maxwell Library's online catalog, <http://webster.bridgew.edu>.

The Educational Resource Center houses numerous reference sources relevant to testing, including:

- Mental Measurements Yearbook
- Tests in Print
- Test Critiques
- Guide to 100 Tests for Special Education
- Consumer's Guide to Tests in Print
- Special Educator's Comprehensive Guide to 301 Diagnostic Tests
- Directory of Unpublished Experimental Mental Measures

Mental Measurements Yearbook is also available as an online database (off-campus access requires a BSU user account). To access it from the Maxwell Library web page, click on Databases A-Z, select the M tab, then scroll down and click on Mental Measurements Yearbook.

The Tests and Measures MaxGuide, <http://maxguides.bridgew.edu/testsandmeasures>, also contains a significant listing of resources on topics related to tests and testing.

TEST USE POLICY

This policy was written in accordance with copyright laws, the requirements of test publishers and AERA-APA-NCME standards (see Standards for Educational and Psychological Testing, Cur Lib Ref LB 3051/A693/1999).

The purpose of the Educational Resource Center test collection is to provide qualified persons with samples of standardized tests for examination and study.

A qualified person may be defined as:

A college faculty member whose field is involved with standardized tests

A student of the college who is taking a course in which standardized tests are taught

Other patrons of the library whose training qualifies them to examine these materials.

It is essential that access to the test collection be limited to the above user categories in order that the security of the tests not be compromised. Most test publishers demand a written statement from the library indicating that only qualified persons will have access to the tests. It is not the function of the library to provide materials for the administering of tests, and the library does not approve of duplicating test materials for any purpose. Persons will not be allowed to use the collection to prepare for taking a test or to critique the results of a test administered by a professional. With these factors in mind, the following rules will apply to the use of the test collection:

The collection will be maintained in closed files. All persons using the collection must ask the staff person on duty for the desired test, and the staff person may require the user to describe his or her qualifications and intentions (students may want to bring a syllabus or other proof that they are enrolled in appropriate course work).

Persons using tests must leave identification and sign the sheet provided at the Educational Resource Center service desk. Users will be allowed to sign out only one test at a time.

Tests must not be taken out of the Educational Resource Center, except by special permission of the Educational Resource Librarian or one of her assistants.

Special permission to take tests out of the library will be granted to qualified faculty of the college for demonstrations or presentations. The normal limit will be one test per person, and tests will be let out on a same day or overnight basis only.

Persons using tests should check the contents for missing items when signing out tests. Missing items should be reported to the staff person on duty.

Tests are not available through SMCL or ILL; however, persons from other institutions may examine tests in the Educational Resource Center, provided they meet the above qualifications and can demonstrate those qualifications with appropriate documentation.
